BMW Chicago Region Owners Association is embracing electronic communications to its membership.

It is faster, less expensive and will allow members to have online conversations through the forum.

You do not need to be a member to sign up to use the CRBMW website and on the following screens we have put together a step-by-step primer on how to sign up to use the forum.

Step 5

Re-log into the forum and input your user name & password.

Select the “remember me” box if you use your own computer so you don’t need to log in again.

Step 6

The forum has seven tabs for you to personalize your profile, see recent topics you replied to, etc.

You can also see a “Documents” section on the blue bar which has pdfs of the newsletter.

Replies	Topic	Views	Last Post
2	Passing of Frank Weimer UPDATE Category: Club Business & Member Announcements Topic started 3 days 4 hours agoby Tim Colburn	90	Last Post by Tim Colburn 2 days 16 hours ago
10	2015 Rides and Ideas Category: Club Business & Member Announcements Topic started 1 month 1 week agoby Rick Koscher Page: 1 2	421	Last Post by Rick Koscher 1 week 1 day ago

Below the discussions, there is a 'Who Is Online' section showing 'Total users online: 1 Member and 9 Guests Online'.
